

A Dazzling Ensemble of Gems and Jewelry Products

Organized jointly for the first time by Thailand's Department of International Trade Promotion (DITP) and the Gems and Jewelry Institute of Thailand (GIT), the 67th Bangkok Gems and Jewelry Fair (BGJF) is especially significant as it marks the first full-scale edition after the Covid-19 pandemic. The fair features a full range of materials for gems and jewelry making: precious stones, semi-precious stones, rough stones and synthetic stones sourced from Thailand and the supply chain of gemstones around the world. BGJF also showcases an extensive collection of pieces from manufacturers in Thailand and overseas, namely, pearls, diamonds, gold jewelry, fine jewelry, silver jewelry, and costume and fashion jewelry, as well as complementing products like displays and packaging, jewelry parts, and related equipment, tools and machinery.

Fair Highlights

The Networking Reception

A special platform where gems and jewelry professionals can extend their business networks in an intimate and elegant setting, the Networking Reception is a sensational event joined by international buyers, trade missions, DITP and GIT officers, ambassadors and VIPs from Thailand, to tap into different perspectives, insights and resources.

The Wonder of Jewels

A special exhibition that reflects the majestic craftsmanship of Thai artisans and the contemporary scene of jewelry making in Thailand

The New Faces

The buzzing showcase highlights the creativity of young designers, and the exciting new collections from up-and-coming jewelers across the Kingdom.
